DPCC payed homage to Pt. Nehru

Mukesh Jain
New Delhi/ May 27
Delhi Pradesh Congress Committee (DPCC) president Smt. Sheila Dikshit on Saturday paid floral tributes to Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru for the all-round development of the country with foresight and fortitude were now bearing fruits as whatever developments that have been witnessed in the country were the results of Nehruji's vision.

A function was held at the DPCC office, Rajiv Bhawan, here today to observe the 55th death anniversary of Pandit Nehru. Congress leaders and workers paid floral tributes to Pandit Nehru's portrait. Smt. Sheila Dikshit said it was Nehru's great vision and planning that helped India overcome the teething troubles following the hard won freedom struggle and move towards development, progress, prosperity and self-reliance.

Besides Smt. Sheila Dikshit, others who offered floral tributes to Nehruji were former Delhi Ministers Shri Mangat Ram Singhal and Dr. Kiran Wala, DPCC spokesperson Shri Jitender Kumar Kachhar, DCC presidents Shri Kailash Jain and Shri Hari Kishan Jindal, Shri Rohit Manchanda, Smt. Priyanka Singh and Shri Aadesh Bhardwaj.

DPCC president Smt. Sheila Dikshit said that the Congress party not only won freedom for the country, but also put the country on the road to development and progress after independence by taking many landmark decisions to tackle poverty, housing, universal education, industrial development and friendly relations with foreign countries which also helped the country benefit in myriad ways for its developments.

Smt. Sheila Dikshit said that people should take inspiration from the life of Pt. Nehru to take the country to greater heights and progress with discipline, dedication and commitment, which were the hallmark of Panditji's life and work.

Angry at being scolded by neighbours Delhi man kills their 11-year-old son

MM BUREAU
New Delhi/ May 27
An 11-year-old boy who was reported missing two weeks ago was murdered by his neighbour because the man was angry at being scolded by the child's parents, police said on Sunday.

The 28-year-old suspect, Danish, led the police to the decomposed body under the Khajuri Khas flyover after CCTV footage showed him walking with the boy around the same time that he had gone missing, said Atul Kumar, deputy commissioner of police (north-east).

The DCP, however, said they were still questioning the suspect to know whether there was any other motive behind the crime or if the boy had been sexually assaulted. "For now, we only have Danish's version of the events. We will know more once we receive the autopsy report," said the DCP.

Identified by the police only by his first name, Danish earned his living by selling chicken. He lived in the same neighbourhood as the boy in north-east Delhi's Nehru Vihar. Until recently, he shared a friendly relationship with the boy who lived with his parents. The boy's parents are daily wage labourers. "Danish had also gifted the boy a few chicks to rear. They would often spend time together," said the DCP.

But for the past few days, he was being repeatedly scolded by the boy's parents. "Danish would sit outside the home of the boy whose parents believed that he was blocking the narrow street," said the officer based on Danish's "confession". "Danish was angry. Finally he decided that killing the boy would leave his family in pain."

On May 14, Danish allegedly took the boy along with him to an isolated spot under the Khajuri Khas flyover, almost four

The DCP, however, said they were still questioning the suspect to know whether there was any other motive behind the crime or if the boy had been sexually assaulted. "For now, we only have Danish's version of the events. We will know more once we receive the autopsy report," said the DCP.

Police also showed the boy in a video to his neighbours. "The boy was scolded by his neighbours on Saturday and he was scolded again on Sunday," said the officer. "Danish then strangled the boy and dumped his body in a 'cavity' even as the child's father, a missing case registered at Khajuri Khas police station, said he was not aware of the incident."

"Our investigators scanned many CCTV videos and saw thousands of people before the CCTV

Ultrasound centres not inspected since January 2018

MM BUREAU
New Delhi/ May 27
Delhi's health department has not inspected any ultrasound centre between January 2018 and February 2019, to check for violations of the Pre-Conception-Pre-Natal Diagnostic Technology Act (PC-PNDT), an official said in a reply to an RTI query. As per the reply, 16 and 18 inspections were done by the state team in 2016 and 2017, respectively, while the last time there was no inspection was in 2009.

"There is a shortage of manpower. The office does not have sufficient officers to conduct the inspections," a senior official with the Delhi government's health department said.

In comparison, 16 cases under the PC-PNDT Act were registered in neighbouring Gurugram in 2018, which led to 30 arrests and three in 2019, which led to six arrests. India's child sex ratio (0-6 years) fell from 927 girls/1,000 boys in 2011 to 810 girls/1,000 boys in 2018, according to the Census data. Delhi's child sex ratio is below the national average, at 871 girls/1,000 boys.

"We constantly receive tip-offs and information about sex determination clinics and illegal abortion centres from locals, most of who are pharmacists selling abortion pills. We gather information and the resources, and act on it as and when the situation is appropriate," said Anandesh

Chauhan, Gurugram district drug control officer and a member of the PNDDT committee. The PC-PNDT Act was enacted in 1994 to prevent sex-selective abortions. Under the PC-PNDT Act, hospitals, nursing homes, and diagnostic centres are forbidden from using ultrasound to determine and communicate the sex of the unborn child to the parents. Breaking the law can lead up to three years of imprisonment and a fine of 10,000. For subsequent offences, the prison term may extend to five years and the fine, up to 1 lakh.

Action against clinics performing illegal sex determination improved Delhi's sex ratio from 902 girls/1,000 boys in 2018 to 913 girls/1,000 boys in 2017.

Since then, inspections reached a five-year low, to zero, in 2018. Inspections are done to check for irregularities, such as not filling out Form 'F' that records the medical history of pregnant women seeking ultrasounds, or for not registering ultrasound machines, as mandated by the law. The number of inspections shot up to 19 in 2014, after hovering between one and six since 2009. "It is good to see that the sex ratio in Delhi is improving, but with the law implementation of the law, we are unlikely to see any more improvement, if it does not decline. And, look at it this way — even if we go by the current sex ratio, still 4% of the 3.5 lakh children are being lost. For every illegal female foeticide for three decades. In February, the Delhi government approved a reward scheme, wherein an informer will receive 50,000 for a successful raid and pregnant women acting as decoy customers."

DPCC constitutes committee to probe in defeat of Cong. candidates

Mukesh Jain
New Delhi/ May 27
Delhi Pradesh Congress Committee president Smt. Sheila Dikshit has constituted a five-member committee, consisting of Shri Parvesh Hashmi (ex-MP), Dr. A. K. Wala and Dr. Yogannand Shastri (former Delhi Ministers), Shri Pawan Khera (national spokesperson, AICC) and Shri Jaikishan (ex-MLA), to enquire in depth the reasons behind the defeat of the Congress candidates in the Lok Sabha elections in Delhi. The committee will probe the reasons for the defeat of the Congress candidates, what should be done to ensure the victory of the Congress party in the Assembly elections in Delhi in 2020, and how to further strengthen the party organisation in Delhi. The committee has been asked to submit its report to the DPCC president within ten days.

AAP will break 2015 record in 2020

MM BUREAU
New Delhi/ May 27
In his first address to party workers after the party's drubbing in the Lok Sabha elections in Delhi, the Aam Aadmi Party's national convener and Delhi chief minister Arvind Kejriwal on Sunday said the party failed to convince voters in the general elections but he believes that in the 2020 assembly polls in Delhi the AAP would break all records. Kejriwal on Sunday addressed a gathering of party workers in West Delhi's Punjabi Bagh which was attended by nearly a thousand party workers from across the city. Many of them were office bearers and members of the party's block level, ward level and district level units. Some participants claimed they were associated with the party since the Anna Hazare-led India Against Corruption movement in 2011. As Kejriwal started his speech with "How is the Jodhpur" (A popular line from a Hindi movie released earlier this year, many in the crowd cheered — some of them broke into a smile, others repeated the line.

Delhi's power demand up by 22% in April-May

MM BUREAU
New Delhi/ May 27
The power demand in the national capital has been soaring this year with April-May recording a 22 per cent increase over the corresponding period in 2018. The peak power demand in April 2018 was 5,200 MW. This year, the demand in April crossed the 5,200-MW mark five times, peaking at 5,664 MW on April 30, said Delhi's power department and discom officials. "Notwithstanding the intermittent pleasant weather, Delhi's power demand in 2019 is turning out to be up to 23 per cent more than the corresponding period last year," an official said. The power demand in April 2019 has been higher in 19 occasions than the corresponding days last year. On April 22, it was 3,828 MW in 2018 and 4,658 MW in 2019 — an increase of 20 per cent. Again on April 25, it was 4,436 MW in 2018 and 5,552 MW in 2019 — an increase of 19 per cent, the officials said. The trend continues in May 2019. Of the first 24 days of May 2019, the power demand has been higher than on 13 corresponding days of last May, increasing by up to 22 per cent on May 10, 2019, when it touched 5,985 MW as against 4,899 MW on May 10, 2018, they said. However, the power demand between May 15 and 24, 2019, has been marginally less than the power demand on the corresponding days last year as temperatures remained relatively pleasant because of the western disturbances, they pointed.

To beat dust pollution, Delhi begins greening its roads

MM BUREAU
New Delhi/ May 27
The public works department (PWD) has begun beautifying the city roads and open spaces in an effort to cut down on dust pollution in the national capital.

Around two months ago, the PWD began with the roads around ISBT Kashmere Gate Ring Road, Bahadur Shah Zafar Marg, Deen Dayal Upadhyay Marg among others by planting variety of saplings on the central and side verges.

The department is also beautifying other open spaces such as small parks or patches of lands alongside the roads managed by it. The PWD manages 1,260 km roads in the city. It is planting ornamental and seasonal flowering plants, creepers, shrubs and grass alongside roads to give them a beautiful look, an official familiar with the project said. The project is a part of the Delhi government's Green Budget initiative.

Surat aftermath: Fire dept seeks number of students enrolled in coaching centres

MM BUREAU
New Delhi/ May 27
Two days after a fire at a coaching institute in Gujarat's Surat claimed 22 lives, the Delhi Fire Service (DFS) has asked coaching institute owners across the city to provide latest buildings plans and make it mandatory to mention the number of students enrolled in each centre.

The fire department, along with the municipalities, will inspect over 3,000 coaching institutes in the city. Along with reviewing the permission, the officials will assess the "assembling capacity" of the buildings.

"In several of the private coaching centres, hundreds of students are admitted. The classrooms and the coaching centre buildings are rarely equipped to safely manage the crowds in case of fire incidents," said a senior fire official.

For instance, in East Delhi's Laxmi Nagar several coaching institutes are lined one after another along the main road whose exits he said. Garg also said that inspection reports will be sent to municipalities to take action against erring owners.

Senior officials of the building department of East Delhi Municipal Corporation said that many owners of these centres have not registered their buildings as an "assembly building", to excuse themselves of the routine inspections. "We will conduct surprise inspections. The problem is that many do not seek permissions and we are not the agency responsible to grant fire clearances," a senior EDMC official said.

Similar scenes can be seen around North Delhi's Pitampura and South Delhi's Munirka.

Chief fire officer Atul Garg said inspection of buildings and their permits have already begun. "We are conducting inspections and any building owner found ignoring the safety norms will face action,"
